Martial Arts: The Stand-Off.

Scene one

Shot 1- camera pans clockwise 270° (field-of-view 90°) from a central position above the fight arena on a very rowdy crowd. Crowd description: some are drunk (friends prop each other up with arms around each other's shoulders), some are sober, some wave betting slips others wave wads of money), a couple of fights are in progress with friends pulling them apart (no one is seriously injured). In the last 90° of the shot the Lord of The Fight (centre of shot) sits on an ornate throne (on the upper tier of the arena) with a medium sized gong to his right-hand side, a betting board is behind him (showing a champion and contender both at even money, punters eagerly exchange money with the bookie), and he is surrounded by the crowd as he puffs on a hookah (most likely containing some form of psychedelic producing rainbow coloured smoke).

Shot 2 - close-up of the Lord of the fight (from the left side looking right) he leans to his left, hookah pipe in left hand and cupping his mouth with his right hand so his left-hand man can hear him over the raucous crowd and tells him to signal for the main event to start was blowing psychedelic smoke in his face as he talks. The left-hand man tries to waft the smoke away from his face coughing slightly then signals for the fight to start with his left-hand beckoning with two fingers (index and middle) to the fight announcer, standing in the centre of the pit, for proceedings to start.

Scene two

Shot 1 - just off centre of the middle of the arena looking towards the Lord of the fight focusing on a microphone suspended from the ceiling by its cable as the microphone is lowered the camera follows it down till it is grasped by the fight announcer and the camera holds focus on the fight announcer who is holding cards to introduce the fighters. As the announcer begins his introduction the camera starts to slowly rotate anticlockwise around the announcer 360°, camera is angled up (10° approximately) so we can see all the crowd around him/her out of focus.

Fight announcer (in a loud and commanding voice may be too loud even though he is using a microphone) (the raucous crowd can be heard in the background whooping and hollering)-" Ladies and gentlemen.... (Dramatic pause similar in length to a Roger Moore dramatic pause).... Welcome to The Pit! For your viewing pleasure this evening The Lord of the Fight is proud to present (more Roger Moore)... the Battle For Your Immortal Souls!"

The crowd is stunned to almost silence with murmurings of (swear words are optional of course) followed by laughing in disbelief. This is a montage of crowd shots.

Shot 2- “What the fuck did he just say?”

Shot 3-“Bullshit, my immortal soul? Ha! I sold that a long time ago wanker!”

Shot 4-”Fuck off!! He’s having a laugh, right?”

The murmuring turns to shouting somewhere along the lines of-

Shot 5-“Bollocks you twat.”

Shot 6-“Pull the other one you cunt!”

Shot 7-“Who’s gonna fight for our immortal souls you pillock?!!”

Shot 8-behind the announcer over the shoulder looking at the last one to shout.

Fight announcer- “If you would kindly shut the fuck up, I was just getting to that!” (increases in volume as the sentence goes on)… (Covers the microphone but you can still slightly hear) “For fuck’s sake they don’t pay me enough for this shit!”

Fight announcer pauses as the crowd quickly quietens down (camera rotates 180° from behind the announcer to his front).

Fight announcer-“Thank you!”

He re-composes himself straightening his arm holding the cards kind of doing a forward shrug with his shoulders and arms and a reset of his neck and raises the microphone to his mouth.

Fight announcer- “On my left,”

Fight announcer starts to gesture towards his left-hand side with his left arm and turns towards the black gate then re-positions the cards so he can read them.

Shot 9-camera cuts to behind the first fighter in a dark tunnel with a closed gate in front of him looking into the arena, the fight announcer continues and can be heard from the tunnel.

Fight announcer-“Fighting out of the black gate.”

The black gate starts to descend and the fighter starts to walk slowly to the arena - the distance of the walk to the arena is equivalent to the length of time it takes the announcer to do the full introduction (camera follows fighter down the tunnel)

Fight announcer continues the introduction-“Hailing from the Deep South! First of the Fallen! Most Unclean! The Thunder from Down Under!
Luuuuuuuuucifeeeeeer!(Lucifer)”

Lucifer emerges on his name being said raising both arms triumphantly (camera slowly rotates from behind Lucifer 240° anticlockwise) pointing at all the crowd then giving them the double thumbs down as if to say they're all coming to Hell when he's done here. The black gate then ascends closing off the dark tunnel with a deep ominous clang/boom (metal on stone). Lucifer looks towards The Lord of the Fight and slowly nods with a wry smile.

Shot 10-quick cut to the Lord of the Fight, hookah pipe in mouth, is looking at Lucifer and nods back in acknowledgement.

A quick montage of shots of the crowd - the crowd is stunned and there is a collective and prolonged "Ooooooooh fuuuuuuck!"

Shot 11 -"Oo"

Shot 12 -"oo"

Shot 13 -"oo"

Shot 14 -"oh"

Shot 15 -"Fu"

Shot 16 -"uu"

Shot 17 -"uu"

Shot 18 -"uck!"

Shot 19 -cuts back to announcer and he begins his introduction of the second fighter.

Fight announcer-"And on my right,"

The Fight announcer turns to his right gesturing with his left hand towards the pearly gates, repositioning the cards so he can read them.

Shot 20- camera cuts to behind the second fighter in a tunnel of light with a closed gate in front of him looking into the arena, the fight announcer continues and can be heard from the tunnel.

Fight announcer-"Fighting out of the Pearly Gate"

The pearly gate starts to ascend and the fighter starts to walk slowly to the arena - the distance of the walk to the arena is equivalent to the length of time it takes the announcer to do the full introduction (camera starts to follow fighter down the tunnel).

Fight announcer-"Hailing from the High North! Whether you knew it or not… He's been protecting you since creation, from"

Shot 21-camera cuts to fight announcer facing, announcer left of shot in focus at start, announcer gestures with left hand with cards towards Lucifer, on gesture camera refocuses to Lucifer.

Fight announcer continues-"this guy!"

Shot 22-camera cuts to Lucifer close-up

Lucifer - “Who me?”

Lucifer gestures with both hands out to either side palms raised then closes both hands in towards his chest, then shakes his head.

Lucifer-“Nah, not me! It’s that other Lucifer you got the wrong guy!”

Lucifer gestures with his left hand pointing his thumb over his shoulder at some other Lucifer, clearly, he’s lying, he’s the Prince of lies FFS!

Shot 23-camera cuts back to follow second fighter from behind for the remainder of his walk to the ring and the fight announcer’s introduction.

Fight announcer-“The Chief Messenger! The Archangel! The One! The Only! Saint Michael!” (Elongate annunciation of Michael as necessary).

Michael emerges from the tunnel of light. Camera rotates slowly 240° anticlockwise Michael’s arms are raised aloft pointing with both fingers to the sky those fingers then start pointing at all the crowd and then back to the sky to suggest that when he is done, they are all going to a much nicer place when their time comes. Michael looks towards the Lord of the Fight judge mentally slowly blinking his eyes and shaking his head. The pearly gate then descends closing off the tunnel of light with a deep ominous clang/boom (metal on stone).

Shot 24-camera cuts to Lord of the fight shrug his shoulders and raises both eyebrows and squeezes out a nervous smile.

A quick montage of shots of the crowd - the crowd is relieved and there is a collective and prolonged “Thaaaaaank fuuuuuuck!”

Shot 25 -“Tha”

Shot 26-“aa”

Shot 27 -“aa”

Shot 28 -“ank”

Shot 29 -“Fu”

Shot 30 -“uu”

Shot 31 -“uu”

Shot 32-“uck!”

The crowd goes wild.

Shot 33-cut to Lucifer close-up

Lucifer-“Oooooh Fuuuuuuck!”

Lucifer looks down at his right hand mustering all the strength he can to lift it aloft then he looks up to the heavens raising his right hand in unison and gives his dad the middle finger salute, and shouts at the top of his lungs…

Lucifer-“CUNT/Fuck you, Dad! (one or the other<<) Where’s that tree hugging carpenter Jesus? Anyone but this fucking guy….you prick! I win this…you …are….fucked!!”

Lucifer points viciously at the sky to accentuate “you prick”, “you” and “fucked”.

Scene three

Shot 1 - camera cuts to the third and final golden gate in the pit it splits in two opening laterally and out of the shadows walks the recently deceased world class referee Mills Lane. In the background you can hear the fight announcer introducing this legendary referee. Front shot close-up of Mills Lane as he walks to the centre of the ring he acknowledges the crowd on his walk out.

Fight announcer-“And your referee, for this destiny deciding duel, back from the afterlife, one of the greatest referees of all time….. Mills Lane!”

Applause and cheers from the crowd for Mills Lane

Fight announcer -(puts his hand over the mic again but he’s not really blocking anything as he says)”Fuck that Joe Cortez eh Mills?”

Mills Lane-“Yeah, fuck Joe!” (We just catch the tail end of this, but really, we hear all of this)

As the announcer lets go of the microphone and walks out through the golden gate that Mills walked in, the microphone raises slightly to just above head height of Mills Lane so he can be heard giving his instructions to the fighters.

Camera pans out 50% as Mills Lane beckons Lucifer and Michael to the centre for instructions. They both come to the centre, Lucifer can be seen dragging his feet like a petulant child who doesn’t want to be there and the crowd giggles at his tantrummery. Mills Lane continues to beckon the fighters in, then puts his hands against their chests to stop them at a respectable distance.

Michael nods respectfully-“Lou”

Lucifer nods disrespectfully and rolls his eyes a little-“Mike”

Mills Lane-“I want a good fight, it doesn’t have to be a clean one just a good one I wanna make that perfectly clear, and on the subject of clean anything goes except, no biting, no eye gouging both white and brown, no head butts, no divine powers (meaningfully taps Michael’s shoulder with the back of his hand) and no infernal powers (meaningfully taps Lucifer’s shoulder with the back of his hand) but everything else is legal!”

Lucifer-“So, I can kick him repeatedly in the nuts?!!”

Mills Lane-“If he has any,”

Mills chuckles to himself, Michael hits him on the shoulder

Michael- “Hey!!”

Mills Lane continues-“… I’ll allow it!”

Michael-“And I can punch a hole in his chest and rip out his spine through that hole?!!!”

Mills Lane-“If he has one,”

Mills chuckles to himself, Lucifer hits him on the shoulder

Lucifer- “Hey!!”

Mills Lane continues-”…I’ll allow it!”

Mills Lane (looking at both fighters as he says)-“Do you both understand the rules as I’ve explained them to you?”

Both Lucifer and Michael nod in turn as Mills Lane looks at them.

Mills Lane-“Touch knuckles and come out fighting!”

Camera slowly pans out to keep both Michael and Lucifer in shot, Mills Lane still in the centre of shot.

Shot 2-split

Michael and Lucifer put both hands in (clenched fists, thumbs on top) and touch knuckles, Lucifer rotates both of his fists so his palms are facing upwards then his two middle fingers spring up swiftly and-

(Shot 2 split-screen screen shot- one camera follows Michael (right-side) and one camera follows Lucifer (left-side) both cameras at a static position in the centre tracking each fighter.

Left-side shot- Lucifer does a groovy shuffle walking backwards (like he is dancing to “Papa was a Rolling Stone” by The Temptations) while still showing the two middle fingers he’s just raised.

Right-side shot- Michael moonwalks backwards to the beat of “Billie Jean” when he reaches his position, he draws the string on an imaginary bow and lets an arrow fly which is really his middle fingers to Lucifer, hands in position left arm/hand stretched out in front right arm folded imitating pulling the bow-string right hand just underneath his chin very close to his chest, one bow-finger and one string-finger quickly spring out simulating an arrow being launched. (don’t know about this I think it would be hard to moonwalk and wax on wax off at the same time >>>doing Mr Miyagi’s wax on wax off like he is dancing to “Kung Fu Fighting” by Carl Douglas<<< yeah I like the imaginary bow and arrow better) .

Shot 3-camera cuts to the Lord of the fight he strikes the gong to start the fight.

Shot 4- camera cuts back to a close-up of Mills Lane. Mills Lane cuts is hand down the middle as an unspoken signal for the fighters to approach that point. And as he skips backwards and motivationally shouts…

Mills Lane-“Let’s get it on!!”

A quick montage of shots switching between Michael and Lucifer starting from their positions and gaining speed as they get towards the centre.

Shot 5- Lucifer grins and starts to run

Shot 6-Michael also grins and starts to run.

Shot 7-Lucifer running.

Shot 8-Michael running.

Shot 9-Lucifer running faster.

Shot 10- Michael running faster.

Shot 11-Lucifer winds up to strike, hands forward as he is going to propel himself into a flying knee.

Shot 12- Michael sees this and gets his guard up.

Shot 13- Michael and Lucifer in shot, Lucifer strikes coming in with a flying knee, Michael blocks with his foot and Shot 14-camera on Michael’s arm and follows his hand (in slow motion) slaps Lucifer in the face with an almighty right open palm strike slapping the consciousness out of him. Camera then follows Lucifer as he crashes to the floor, Mills Lane can be seen in the distance out of focus he takes are a few quick steps to get closer to Lucifer and into focus, starts his 10 count. It’s a knockout Mills Lane goes in slaps him hard in the face just to make sure he’s not dead Lucifer grins and starts to drool but his eyes are all over the place.

Lucifer-“Did I win?”

Mills Lane-“Unfortunately not Lou… he’ll live!”

Shot 15-cut to Michael on right-hand side of the screen Mills Lane enters the shot approaching Michael grabs him by the wrist.

Mills Lane-“ Your winner Michael the Archangel!”

Mills lifts Michael’s hand in victory.

Shot 16- cut to crowd camera rotates 270˚anticlockwise (reverse shot from the start again with the Lord of the Fight being last in shot when rotation stops)

The crowd goes wild maybe some celebration animations here, jubilant headlocks/hugging/high 5s and 10s. Punters clamouring for their winnings at the bookie. Lord of the Fight is unconscious (too much hookah wreathed in smoke)

Shot 17- cut back to Mills Lane and Michael centre ring.

Michael-“Catch you later Mills”

Mills Lane-“Yeah see you later Mikey. Good fight, good night!!”

Michael disappears in a blinding white light, when the light fades Mills Lane can be seen shielding his eyes from where Michael once was.
